RE: The Mainstreaming Addiction Treatment Act (“MAT Act”, H.R. 1384 / S. 445)

Dear Chair Pallone and Ranking Member McMorris Rodgers,

On behalf of the more than 100 undersigned organizations, we thank you for working together to address the mental health and substance use disorder crises. As you consider the provisions of the Restoring Hope for Mental Health and Well-Being Act, we urge you to include the bipartisan Mainstreaming Addiction Treatment Act (MAT Act, H.R. 1384 / S. 445) in the package before it is voted out of committee.

The MAT Act is a common-sense solution to our nation’s substance use disorder crisis that will prevent overdoses, increase access to treatment, and reduce stigma. The legislation will open the doors to recovery for countless individuals by helping to integrate substance use disorder treatment into primary care practices, emergency departments, and other health care settings.

The overdose epidemic continues to devastate American families in every state. The United States is now losing nearly 108,000 people to overdoses in a year – more deaths than at any other time in history.ⁱ But, due to outdated federal law, only about 1 in 10 people with opioid use disorder receive medications for the condition, which are considered the gold standard of care.ⁱⁱ Without decisive action to increase access to treatment and equip communities with much needed tools, the overdose crisis will only continue to worsen.

As you consider the Restoring Hope for Mental Health and Well-Being Act, you have the opportunity to expand access to lifesaving treatment by eliminating a significant federal barrier that restricts access to an essential medication for opioid use disorder. This barrier, known as the “X-waiver,” is an outdated federal restriction that prevents health care providers from prescribing buprenorphine, a safe and effective FDA-approved medication that prevents overdoses and supports recovery. Due to the X-waiver, only 1 in 12 eligible health care providers can prescribe this lifesaving medication to patients with opioid use disorder. The MAT Act will eliminate the outdated, burdensome X-waiver and allow health care providers with a standard controlled medication license to prescribe buprenorphine to patients with opioid use disorder. We urge you to include the MAT Act in the Restoring Hope for Mental Health and Well-Being Act before it proceeds to the floor of the House of Representatives.

The MAT Act has overwhelming bipartisan support across Congress. More than half of the House of Representatives has cosponsored the MAT Act, including the Chairs of the Democratic Caucus and the Republican Conference, several members of the GOP Doctors Caucus, all four co-chairs of the Bipartisan Addiction and Mental Health Task Force, the vast majority of the Energy and Commerce members, and nearly every Representative in the New Jersey and Washington delegations. Democrats, Republicans, and Independents agree that the MAT Act is a common-sense solution that can help stem the tide of the overdose crisis.

Thank you again for being champions for combatting the opioid epidemic. We look forward to working together to make the Restoring Hope for Mental Health and Well-Being Act as impactful as it can be for the millions in need and strongly encourage you to ensure that the MAT Act is included in the package. The MAT Act will destigmatize an essential treatment, help countless individuals stay safe from overdoses, and extend hope and healing to communities across the country.
